She did not lift her eyes, but began to move away from him with little backward steps. When she reached the bench on the bank she spoke with a quick intake of breath and in a voice he almost failed to hear, the merest whisper, and her words came so slowly that sometimes minutes separated them. "Can you—will you keep me—on the Herald?"

"Keep you?"
He came near her. "I don't understand. Is it you—who are here again?"

"Have you forgotten me? You know—now—why I wouldn't re-join? You forgive me—that telegram?"

"What telegram?"
"The one that came to you—this morning."

"Your telegram?"
"Yes."

"Did you send me one?"
"Yes."

"It did not come to me."
"Yes—it did."

"But—what was it about?"
"It was signed," she said. "It was signed"—She paused and turned half away, not lifting the downcast lashes.

"I had scrofula and erysipelas for eighteen years, until I heard

Of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," writes Mr. Hilary Koons, of Queens, W. Va. "When I commenced to take this medicine I weighed one hundred and thirty pounds. I have taken six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and three vials of his 'Pleasant Pellets,' and am glad to say I feel like a new man. I now weigh one hundred and seventy-five pounds. When I had used one bottle of the medicine I could feel it was helping me. I realize Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is the best medicine on earth."

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery purifies the blood and entirely eradicates the poisons that breed and feed disease. It cures scrofula, eczema, erysipelas, boils, pimples and other eruptions that mar and scar the skin. Pure blood is essential to good health. The weak, run-down, debilitated condition which so many people experience is commonly the effect of impure blood. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery not only cleanses the blood of impurities, but it increases the activity of the blood-making glands, and it enriches the body with an abundant supply of pure, rich blood.

FREE. Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser is sent free on receipt of stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Send 21 one-cent stamps for the book in paper covers, or 31 stamps for the cloth-bound volume. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

"You!" he said. "You!"

quiet, gathering dusk. He tried to loosen his neckband; it seemed to be choking him. "I—I can't—I don't comprehend it. I am trying to realize what it all means."

"It means nothing," she answered. "There was an editorial yesterday," he said, "an editorial that I thought was about Rodney McCune. Did you write it?"

"Yes."

"It was about—me—wasn't it?"
"Yes."

"It said—it said—that I had won the—the love of every person in Carroll county."

Suddenly she found her voice. "Do not misunderstand me," she said rapidly. "I have done the little that I have done out of gratitude." She faced him now, but without meeting his eyes. "I owed you more gratitude than a woman ever owed a man before, I think, and I would have died to pay a part of it."

"What gratitude did you owe me?"
"What gratitude? For what you did for my father."

I have never seen your father in my life."

"Listen. My father is a gentle old man with white hair and kind eyes. My name is my uncle's. He and my aunt have been good to me as a father and mother since I was seven years old, and they gave me their name by law, and I lived with them. My father came to see me once a year; I never came to see him. He always told me everything was well with him, that his life was happy, and I thought it was easier for him not having me to take care of, he has been so poor ever since I was a child. Once he lost the little he had left to him in the world, his only way of making his living. He had no friends; he was hungry and desperate, and he wandered. I was dancing and going about wearing jewels—only I did not know. All the time the brave heart wrote me happy letters. I should have known, for there was one who did and who saved him. When at last I came to see my father he told me—he had written of his idol before, but it was not till I came that he told it all to me. Do you know what I felt? While his daughter was dancing cotillions a stranger had taken his hand and—"

A sob rose in her throat and checked her utterance for a moment, but she threw up her head proudly. "Gratitude, Mr. Harkless," she cried. "I am James Fisbee's daughter!"

He fell back from the bench with a sharp exclamation and stared at her through the gray twilight. She went on hurriedly, still not looking at him. "I wanted to do something to show you that I could be ashamed of my vile neglect of him—something to show you his daughter could be grateful—and it has been such dear, happy work, the little I have done, that it seems, after all, that I have done it for love of myself. It is what I had always wanted to do—to earn a living for myself, to live with my father. When I came here, my aunt and uncle were terribly afraid I would stay with him. It was to prevent this that they determined to go abroad, and my father said I must go back to them. Then you were—"

He was hurt, and he needed me so much he let me stay. When you—when you told me"—she broke off with a strange, fluttering, half inarticulate little laugh that was half tears and then resumed in another tone—"when you told me you cared that night—that night of the storm—how could I be sure? It had been only two days, you see, and even if I could have been sure of myself—why, I couldn't have told you. Oh, I had so brazenly thrown myself at your head time and again those two days in my—my worship of your goodness to my father and my excitement in recognizing in his friend the hero of my girlhood that you had every right to think I cared; but if—I had—I had—loved you with my whole soul I could not have—why, no woman could have—I mean the sort of girl I am—couldn't have admitted it—must have denied it. Do you think that then I could have answered 'Yes,' even if I had wanted to—even if I had been sure of myself? And now—" Her voice sank again to a whisper. "And now—"

"And now?" he said tremulously. She gave a hurried glance from right to left and from left to right, like one in terror seeking a way of escape; she gathered her skirts in her hand as if to turn into the garden, but suddenly she turned and ran to him. She threw her arms about his neck and kissed him on the forehead.

When they heard the judge calling from the orchard they went back through the garden toward the house. It was dark. The whitest asters were but gray spots. There was no one in the orchard. Briscoe had gone indoors.

"Did you know you are to drive me into town in the phaeton for the fireworks?" she asked.

"Fireworks?"

"Yes. The great Harkless has come home." Even in the darkness he could see the look the vision had given him when the barouche turned into the square. She smiled upon him and said, "All afternoon I was wishing I could have been your mother."

He clasped her hand more tightly. "This wonderful world!" he cried. "Yesterday I had a doctor—a doctor to cure me of love-sickness!"

After a time they had proceeded a little nearer the house. "We must hurry," she said. "I am sure they have been waiting for us." This was true; they had.

From the dining room came laughter and hearty voices, and the windows were bright with the light of many lamps. By and by they stood just outside the patch of light that fell from one of the windows.

"Look!" said Helen. "Aren't they good, dear people?"

"The beautiful people!" he answered.

WOMEN'S FATAL DUEL

Half Pulling Match Ends When One Draws a Revolver.

Wheeling, W. Va., April 11.—Mrs. Ella Graham and Victoria Robinson disagreed and quarreled over the attentions Mr. Robinson was alleged to have lavished upon Mrs. Graham, and in consequence Mrs. Robinson is dead and Mrs. Graham is in jail charged with murder. The two women met near their home in Pocahontas and started in to fight viciously, tearing at one another's hair. Mrs. Robinson was proving too much for her antagonist, when Mrs. Graham pulled a revolver and fired five bullets into Mrs. Robinson's body, killing her instantly. The shots were fired at such close range that the clothing of the dead woman took fire and her dress was partly consumed before the flames were extinguished.

BUNCH OF RUMORS

This Comprises Mainly the Intelligence From the Seat of War.

COME BY WAY OF PARIS

And No Definite Confirmation of Any of Them Has Yet Reached Other News Centers.

It Is Known That the Russians Have Evacuated Korea Drawing the Japs Beyond the Yalu.

London, April 11.—No confirmation has reached London of the various rumors, most of which came by way of Paris, of land fighting, landings by Japanese on the Liao Tung peninsula, the capture of Japanese transports by Russians, etc.

Dispatches from various points agree that the Russians have completely evacuated Korea, but beyond this there is little reliable news.

A Chefoo dispatch which reaches London by way of Rome, asserts that the Japanese squadron with twenty steamers was seen making for Port Arthur. The squadron of Admiral Wrenius has left Cherbourg for the Baltic.

On the occasion of Easter the czar conferred numerous decorations and promotions on naval and military commanders prominent in connection with the war.

Marquis Ito, president of the Japanese privy council, was given a banquet at Tokio Saturday. He announced the success of his mission in establishing confidential relations between the Japanese and Korean courts and said that at his government's request he had drawn up an elaborate report on Korean political needs. The Japanese papers ridicule the idea of the Russian Baltic sea squadron ever reaching the far East, and do not believe that it will ever make the attempt.

RUSSIA'S PLANS

As Outlined by an Officer in a Position to Talk.

St. Petersburg, April 11.—The generally anticipated attack on Port Arthur did not occur Sunday, although a telegram received from Grand Duke Cyril reports that the enemy's ships were sighted on the horizon. It is presumed that the Japanese were warned of the extra precautions which had been taken to guard against a surprise.

There was no Easter merrymaking at the front. By special dispensation the soldiers and sailors there were released.

THE SACRED ICON OF THE RUSSIAN SOLDIERS.

Healed of all religious observance on account of the necessities of the military situation.

Vice Admiral Makaroff's torpedo flotilla patrolled the open sea, while the warships with full steam up remained outside the port. Elsewhere throughout the theater of war all is reported quiet.

A high military authority in an interview explains why General Kuropatkin's plan of campaign does not contemplate a heavy resistance to the Japanese advance at the Yalu, saying:

"Either defeat or victory in a battle there would be disastrous to us. If we lost we would have to fall back through a difficult country. If we won—and I say to you that Russian strategy is based on the idea of victory and not on that of defeat—success would be fruitless. We could not follow it up without exposing the army to too great risks. On account of the Japanese control of the sea, if we pursued the enemy into the peninsula of Korea we would open both flanks to a possible attack from the rear. No, the Japanese must come on to a point in the interior which, with this end in view, has been selected where we will follow up a crushing defeat to the bitter end with blow after blow and seal the fate of the campaign."

"Our plans on sea and land will converge at a time next summer when Vice Admiral Makaroff's fleet will be relieved by the arrival of reinforcements. Then, if successful on land, we can clear the sea of the enemy, cut his communications, and the Japanese in Korea and Manchuria will then be at our mercy."

"The world must not be impatient. The prelude to this war is not yet finished."

It is understood here that as the result of General Kuropatkin's visit to New Chwang, reinforcements of 100,000 men will be sent forward from Liao Yang.

Russia's Capital Rejoices.

St. Petersburg, April 11.—This city yesterday was en fete and was given up to Easter rejoicings. The masses spent the day in merrymaking. The sun shone brightly and the sidewalks were thronged with promenaders. The quay along the Neva was crowded with sightseers watching the ice, which is beginning to move out into the Gulf of Finland.

St. Petersburg, April 11.—The war ministry has granted the petition of Mme. Pousep, daughter of Colonel Maxlowendourov, who desired to be enrolled in a Cossack regiment. The ministry has ordered her enrollment in the First regiment of riflemen.

EMPEROR NOT ILL

Nothing Known in Berlin of Rumors in This Country.

Berlin, April 11.—Nothing is known here concerning the ill-health of the Empress Augusta Victoria, a rumor regarding which was cabled to London and circulated in the United States. The empress goes this week with the younger princes to Ploen, Prussia, where the latter will attend school and where her majesty will spend several days.

Revenge of a Convict.

Columbus, O., April 11.—In revenge for an alleged betrayal George Duncan, a prisoner, Sunday stabbed and probably fatally wounded "Burglar Jim" Anderson, another prisoner at the Ohio penitentiary. Anderson and Duncan escaped together from the penitentiary some time ago and were recently captured after a desperate flight at Chillicothe, O. On being returned to the penitentiary Anderson accused a former guard of having aided in their escape. Since that time Duncan has expressed extreme animosity toward Anderson.

NEARING AN END

Congress Clearing the Decks For Final Adjournment.

AFFAIRS WELSH IN HAND

The More Important Bits of Legislation Are Now in Shape For Speedy Disposition.

April 28 Is Tentatively Named as the Date For Exodus From Washington.

Washington, April 11.—April 28 has been discussed in committee rooms and among senators and representatives as not at all an improbable date for the termination of the present session of congress. The pension appropriation bill has been received from the house and reported from the senate committee with an amendment.

Discussion of service pension legislation, it is believed, will be exhausted before the bill is placed on its passage and this measure therefore is not considered a barrier to early adjournment.

The army appropriation is agreed on except as to four amendments, which are in conference, and it is thought these amendments will not result in much further discussion in either body of congress. The conference report on the agricultural bill has been agreed to in the senate, but no action has been taken by the house. A second conference has been ordered on the fortification bills question on the senate amendments for the purpose of a submarine boat, for instruction in coast defense and making an appropriation for the completion of a certain type of disappearing gun carriage. Both the naval and the district appropriation bills are in conference. The conference report on the Indian appropriation bill has been made, and is likely to cause debate for one or two days. Four days additional discussion is looked for on the postoffice appropriation bill. The amendments that have been adopted are not of a character that will tie the bill up in conference for more than two or three days. It is expected that the sundry civil bill will be reached from the senate committee on appropriations this week and the military academy bill will be ready by the time the sundry civil bill is passed. It is expected that the general deficiency bill will be reported to the house at an early day. No call has yet been issued, but Republican leaders of the senate anticipate holding a meeting of the steering committee early next week to agree on a general program for the remaining days of the session.

SENATE DOINGS

Several Important Matters Billed for the Week.

Washington, April 11.—The measures of importance that will come before the house this week include the $3,000,000 appropriation to carry on necessary river and harbor works, the general deficiency bill, which is expected to come from the appropriation committee early in the week, the copper bill amending the Philippine civil government by authorizing a bond issue by the island government for internal improvements and guaranteeing 5 per cent earnings on capital to be invested in railroad building in the islands, the statehood bill, and conference reports as they may come up for consideration.

The river and harbor and general deficiency bills are not likely to consume much time, but the Philippine bill, which probably will be reached by Wednesday, is expected to require at least two days' debate.

The statehood bill's career is to be determined by a caucus of Republican members to be held probably Thursday evening. A special rule from the committee on rules, limiting debate and providing for a vote, is expected as a result of the caucus.

The Week in the House.

Washington, April 11.—The appropriation bills this week will take precedence of all business in the senate, but it is more than probable that political discussion will take up most of the time nominally devoted to appropriations. The postoffice bill will divide attention early in the week with the conference report on the Indian bill. By the time these two measures shall be disposed of it is expected that the sundry civil bill will have been reported from the committee on appropriations. It is quite generally understood that several Democratic senators will reply to Senator Spooner's speech of Saturday. Senator Gorman will be among the number. There may be an effort made to get up the Panama canal bill during the week, but not if it will interfere with consideration of appropriation bills.

Jews Were Not Molested.

St. Petersburg, April 11.—The Associated Press has received special reports from all the Jewish districts of Russia regarding the happenings of Easter Sunday. According to these dispatches the Russian Easter passed quietly and there was absolutely no attempt to molest the Jews, the provincial governors acting in accordance with instructions from St. Petersburg.

ICE CAUSES FLOOD

River Jam at Montreal Drives Thousands From Home.

Montreal, April 11.—Three thousand people in the village of Verdun, adjoining the western limits of the city of Montreal are living in the upper stories of their houses, while several thousand more, who reside in that section of the city known as Point St. Charles are in danger. A large quantity of ice came down from Lake St. Louis and jammed up against the Victoria bridge. In a few minutes the water began to rise and in a short time had reached the top of the dyke built after the last great flood, and which had been up to the present time a sufficient protection.

In a short time it became possible to navigate all that portion of Verdun in the neighborhood of the Queen's park with boats. All the teams that could be pressed into service are engaged in strengthening and raising the dyke. While the water in front of the city is dangerously high, no damage has been done and it is expected that the costly flood protection works will do their work.

THE PUBLIC AROUSED

To the Need of Checking Preventable Diseases.

Albany, N. Y., April 11.—Millions upon millions of dollars annually lost to the people of the state of New York through preventable diseases is the keynote of the annual report of State Health Commissioner Lewis to the governor, just made public.

"If the monetary value of a human life is assumed to be $5,000," says Dr. Lewis, "the deaths from but five of the preventable diseases during 1903 in this state represents a loss of $4,960,000. These figures seem appalling, and yet millions upon millions can properly be attributed to this sum in loss of wages, expense of the care of the sick and many other expenses incidental to the management of these epidemic and infectious diseases."

The commissioner shows that there was vast opportunity and abundant authority to meet conditions, but absurdly insufficient appropriations with which to perform the necessary work, for which he believes a million dollars a year could be used with immense advantage to the people of the state.

The methods that were used in the democratic primary to beat Mayor Shields are still being discussed in democratic circles and among the people generally. Such methods do not commend themselves to the people and they will be rebuked on election day.

AND still the taxpayers have not been told what city case W. T. Branaman was employed in. They simply know that he was allowed a fee of $75 and that the city attorney was allowed $25 extra compensation. Again we ask for the city case in which they appeared in December.

EVEN if Taggart did beat the Hearst people in Marion county he has not stopped their talking. They speak right up and say that Taggart never played fair. They say some real harsh things about the smiling boss and give him to understand that they are still in the fight and Taggart is not out of the woods yet.

THERE is no better qualified man in the city for mayor than Dr. G. G. Graessle. He is a high class citizen, conservative, honest, progressive, public spirited, in fact he has all the qualities and equipment that go to make a first class mayor. He is a man in whom the people have the fullest confidence and on May 3 they will give him their votes and make him the next mayor of Seymour.

THE republicans have placed before the people of Seymour a ticket composed of clean and capable men. They are men well known and in whom the people have implicit confidence. They are progressive and loyal to every interest of the city. The interests of the taxpayers will be safely guarded by them. Public affairs can be safely entrusted to such men. Give them your hearty support.

Political Gossip.

Dr. L. M. Mains, sr., formerly of this city, is one of the republican nominees for council in the Fifth ward at Jeffersonville. He is the right kind of material.

Oscar H. Montgomery, of Seymour, is formally announced as a candidate for Supreme Judge for this district, for the Republican State convention. He is an able lawyer.—Rising Sun Recorder.

A RED LETTER DAY

At the Holiness Christian Church Revival.

A day of spiritual victory occurred at the Holiness Christian church yesterday. From morning until night every service was enthusiastic and helpful. Large crowds attended, the night congregation jamming the church from front to rear. It was a remarkable religious service just before the preaching a splendid class numbering 52 was received into the church as members. The class gathered in front of the chancel rail, the official board and the pastor, Miss Etta Inou, standing inside the altar. The usual disciplinary questions were asked each candidate separately and after all had responded the official board marched before the class, shaking hands and giving each new member a hearty welcome. Old men past sixty years of age down to little boys not more than ten years of age, from all walks of life had been rescued from sin and now became members of God's visible church.

After this interesting ceremony Mr. Cornell preached impressively on the "Last Judgment." He said the judgment would be an awful place for the sinner, but "pay day" for the righteous. Men, women and children pressed their way to the altar of prayer, and many were converted. Over 100 persons have been at the altar as seekers of salvation. These services close tonight with a great jubilee meeting. Mr. Cornell will leave in the morning for his home in Cleveland.

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and despondency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

Tribute to Lieut. Bligh.

The Sunday Journal yesterday had a two column interview with Lieut. George Pettingill, recruiting officer of the United States Navy, now stationed at Indianapolis. Speaking of the attractive features of the service for young men, he said:

"To show the advancement that boys under instruction may make in the navy I will cite an instance from my own experience. Upon my return from China, two years ago, I was assigned to a little training ship, the Alert. We had 125 boys aboard, besides a small crew of about thirty men on deck. Some of the boys, when they came aboard, could not tell starboard from port, or forward from aft; I found one boy who didn't know how to tell time. We had them aboard for five months. Most of our success in the training of these youngsters was due to the fact that our executive officer, Lieut. Commander Bligh (a Hoosier by the way, from Seymour, Ind.), was a pastmaster in the art of handling men, besides being one of the best officers in the service. Before they left he ship they had acquired all of the ordinary attributes of modern men-of-war, and, besides, we had a class among them of about twelve who were being taught the rudiments of navigation. These boys were mostly from Texas, and I have no doubt that nine tenths of them will stay in the service, and I shall not be surprised to meet some of them one day with gold stripes on their sleeves, I hope I may."

WALLED SEOUL.

The Ancient Capital of Korea and Some of its Peculiarities.

Seoul, the capital of Chosen, is built amid a network of hills eighteen miles from the sea. It is an ancient walled city, fortified in the strongest way by walls that would drive any but an Asiatic army forthwith into the ocean. It is poor in appearance, but rich in fleas. On autumn nights tigers frequently contest the right of way with belated pedestrians, and this is the chief reason why one has the entire street to oneself in a moonlight stroll after 8 o'clock. Metaphorically, one can scarcely see the town for the bald, bulbous and bullet headed Buddhist priests who fatten on the superstition of the populace.

Barring an occasional court function, marked by street processions, Seoul is triumphantly devoid of sights interesting to a traveler. The streets lack entirely those picturesque characteristics of a Chinese or Japanese thoroughfare, and a vista across the Korean house tops is one of appalling monotony. One seeks in vain for attractive souvenirs. In the small shops of Seoul Japanese beer, matches, cigarettes and cheap crockery form the chief stock in trade, while long stemmed Korean pipes and metal banded Korean knives are offered in the most pretentious shops. Here, likewise, can be had the really unique Korean fans, made of silk or paper, finished in oil and covered with curious native designs. These fans are dipped in water before they are used, and the little breeze produced by them is astonishingly cool.

The wall surrounding Seoul, from which kites are ever flying, is but a pocket edition of the great Chinese wall that leads down to the sea at Shanhai-kwan. Piercing this Korean copy are the city gates—picturesque passages—which are promptly and irrevocably closed with the setting of the sun. The west gate will be entered by the tourist on reaching the capital from Chemulpo, and should he come to the outside of this but a minute after the sun has disappeared behind the horizon and the "big bell" has boomed its mournful warning note he is elected to camp in the open until Phoebus has cycled the world on the equatorial path. If he reaches the gate five minutes before it closes on its groaning hinges he will witness a sight that will almost repay him for the toilsome trip up from the coast.—Outing.

PITH AND POINT.

Faith defies fate.
Duty is always divine.
A muzzle is not a cure.

He who cannot bear humility cannot wear honor.

The best kind of hope is that which lends a hand.

The soul with wings does not worry as to the stability of this world.—Chicago Tribune.

The Home of Luther.

Few thoroughfares have been preserved in Europe which give an adequate idea of the streets of the middle ages. One of the most interesting of these relics is the home of Martin Luther, in Frankfurt-am-Main. It stands on the corner of a narrow street and rises to a height which seems unusual even in these days of tall buildings. Like most of the architecture of its period, the Luther house is half timbered and richly decorated. It is a very roomy place, though somewhat dark and probably badly ventilated. The Luther house, like many of its time, contained floors increasing in size as they rose, thus giving a curiously picturesque but top heavy appearance to the building.

A Love Letter.

I would not interest you if you're looking for a guaranteed salve for sores, burns or piles. Otto Dodd, of Ponder, Mo., writes: "I suffered with an ugly sore for a year, but a box of Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured me. It's the best salve on earth. 25c at W. F. Peter Drug Co."

TIME GROWING SHORT

Candidates for Place on State Ticket on the Anxious Seat.

Indianapolis, April 11.—With but fifteen days in which to complete their canvases, the candidates for places on the Republican state ticket are up to their ears in business. Nearly all of the delegates have been re-elected and the candidates know now just what they have to work on. Hanly will be here tomorrow to open headquarters. Penfield and Taylor are now here, and it is understood that Sayre will be here before the end of the week. The candidates for lieutenant governor, Newby, Miller and Ball, are also expected to be here most of the time from now on. The race for reporter of the supreme and appellate courts between Corwin, Nash, Self and Smith, is growing very interesting, and while it will not be decided until near the end of the convention, the delegates will not be permitted to forget it. Secretary Sims of the state committee will endeavor this week to complete arrangements for the convention.

A special to one of the Indianapolis papers conveys the interesting information that John K. Gowdy, consul general to Paris, is about to return to Indiana and that as soon as his present term expires that he will retire. Gowdy was appointed by President McKinley in 1897. The appointment was regarded as an exceedingly good one. Gowdy was painfully plain and newspapers poked a lot of fun at his high top-boots and his eccentric ways. It was predicted that he would cut a rude figure in "gay Paris," but "Oom Jock," as he was called when he was chairman of the state committee, soon demonstrated that he was a polished gentleman as well as a thorough diplomat. He is regarded as one of the most capable men in the consular service, but 'tis said that he is anxious to return to his Rush county farms.

The representatives of William Randolph Hearst have found to their sorrow that T. Taggart is not to be caught napping in his own balliwick. When headed by Secretary Walsh of the Democratic national committee, they descended on Indiana and opened headquarters at the Claypool, some of the Hoosier politicians were alarmed. But not so the wily Taggart. He started to doing things, and while his methods may be questioned as to fairness, they were certainly legal and justified by him in the statement that he has as good a right to try new tricks as Hearst. No call was issued for the convention held by the Seventh district Saturday, but it accomplished Taggart's purpose in electing two Parker delegates and in beating Hearst, which satisfied him.

Hearts Courageous

BY HALLIE ERMINIE RIVES

This matchless romance of colonial days will be printed

IN OUR COLUMNS

Not only one of the best historical novels of the period of the American Revolution, but one of the most delightful love stories.

OPINIONS OF THE PRESS

Chicago Inter-Ocean

The story of "Hearts Courageous" is laid largely in Virginia, but the scene is in Philadelphia in 1776. And here Miss Rives springs another sensation. The plot hinges upon the signing of the Declaration of Independence. The conventional story of its signing, we are told, is not the real one. There was little smooth sailing about it. It had a desperate struggle for existence, thanks to some of our good patriots who have gone down into history with reverential regard. And it was finally saved from oblivion by a most dramatic occurrence on July 4th in Independence Hall—a scene which forms the climax of the plot.

Washington Post

But, pleasing as style is to the critic, the average reader demands something else, such as plot and atmosphere. There is an abundance of both. The plot, which is a most clever one, details the adventures of a young French nobleman who was sent by Louis XVI to ascertain the temper of the colonies, and to find out whether it would be well for France to hold out offers of assistance in case rebellion should be determined on.

Buffalo Courier

The character chief in interest in the story is one that modern fiction has passed wholly by. It is Patrick Henry—the buckskin lawyer without a brief; the magnetic, electric, impassioned, far seeing orator and patriot, who, beneath his backwoods exterior, conceals a soul of fire and sweetness and tenderness.

New York Journal

Miss Rives has told us a story filled with such charm, such life, such sustained dramatic interest that it reaches the topmost height achieved by any writer of the historical romance.

Philadelphia Public Ledger

Its most thrilling scenes are laid in the old State House, while the final debate on the Declaration of Independence is in progress. Its local color here is convincingly true.

DO YOU KNOW

What Eye Strain Is?

It is a condition of the eyes, whereby more nerve force is used for vision than nature's peculiar arrangement of her mechanism can spare, resulting in a lack of nervous energy for the other functions of the body.

EYE STRAIN

Can be overcome with lenses and with lenses only. That is why there is a general improvement in the condition of the person who has been suffering along these lines. Many people with splendid vision have eye strain—it's no criterion because you can see well, that your eyes are not at fault. If you are troubled with headaches, dizziness, aversion to bright light, sleepy feeling and a desire to close the eyes when reading, darting pains in the eye balls or temples, smarting or burning sensation about or in the eye, seeing double, floating spots or flashing lights, recurring sore eyes and numerous other symptoms are considered as positive evidence of eye strain. Better let us make an examination for you and you may know the truth—have the leak stopped if there is one. Examinations free for a limited time.

You Can Still Have Stock in the New Series.

Series F, of the Co-operative Building and Loan Association stock which was opened Monday, April 4th has proved larger than was anticipated by the officers of the Association. In fact it bids fair to be among the best in the number of shares taken in the history of the Association, as there are always some who come in after the opening night before the series is closed.

The Co-operative is one of the best associations in Indiana. If you have failed to secure any stock in this new series you may have the opportunity to do so during the next few days before the series is closed. See the secretary, W. F. Peter, at once and arrange for what stock you can carry.

Begin saving now and continue it regularly. You will be surprised at the result if you have never tried it. d&w

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that Science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucus surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and give the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

SSS THE BEST TONIC

In S. S. S. Nature has provided a tonic suited to every requirement of the system when in a debilitated, run down condition. It contains no strong minerals or drugs, but is a pleasant vegetable preparation. You can find no better remedy for toning up the nerves and bringing refreshing, restful sleep when in a low state of health, or sick and worn out with work or worry.

S. S. S. improves the appetite, aids the digestion and reinforces the system, and its good effects are seen almost from the first dose. It acts promptly in cases of chronic dyspepsia, indigestion and all stomach troubles, and does away with the uncomfortable fullness, nausea, shortness of breath, drowsiness and dizziness that so often come after eating.

S. S. S. is not only the best tonic but possesses alternative or purifying properties, and if there is any taint, humor or poison in the blood it searches it out, and removes it. Many times a low state of health is due to a bad condition of the blood and can only be remedied by a blood purifier and tonic combined, or such a remedy as S. S. S.

If you suffer from debility, insomnia, nervousness, loss of appetite, bad digestion, or any of the symptoms of a disordered blood, nothing will so soon put your blood in good condition, invigorate and tone up the system as S. S. S.

ANNUAL SALE, TEN MILLION BOXES

The interviews given out by Hearst's managers in Chicago stating that ballot-boxes had been stuffed and other fraudulent means used by the Taggart forces in the Indianapolis primaries are not borne out by the real conditions. The primaries were the quietest that have been held here in many years. The slates at the police station show there were no arrests the night of the primaries. Mayor Holtzman and Superintendent Kruger say there was good order. It is true that the Taggart forces held the election machinery and that they took advantage of every opportunity to win, but there were no disgraceful scenes, and all statements to that effect are regarded as the wall of the defeated Hearst hosts.

THE BROWN TRIAL

Will Probably Get to the Jury by Wednesday Noon.

Indianapolis, April 11.—The cross-examination of Walter Brown, charged with complicity in the wrecking of the Indiana National Bank of Elkhart, has been completed, and it is said that the evidence for the defense will probably be in by this evening. This will allow the arguments to be made tomorrow and the case to pass to the jury by Wednesday noon.

Cool, defiant and outspoken, Brown faced a rigorous cross-examination by the government with no show of nervousness or aversion. Subjected to a four hours' siege of direct questioning, he stepped from the witness stand apparently nerved and satisfied, having held firmly to his story told in direct examination, in which he explained his connection with the insolvent Indiana National Bank of Elkhart.

Although the story in his own defense was shaken in a number of points by the cross-examination, Brown adhered stubbornly to its details and answered the majority of questions quietly and with little hesitancy. However, there were some questions which he could not answer, saying that he would have to make an examination of the books of his company to reply directly.

"Belled" With Dynamite.
Evansville, Ind., April 11.—A charcoal party near Booneville, carried some dynamite, the intention being to explode only small portions of it at a time. The entire amount was exploded at one time, partially wrecking the home of Curran Mullen, the young man who had married, the day before, Miss Jessie Harrison. Mrs. Mullen is suffering severely from the nervous shock. Prosecutions are likely to follow.

Both the house and its contents were destroyed.

Parents Give Boys Up.
Hammond, Ind., April 11.—Ray Knight, Grover Lincoln, John Dietrich and Harry Hahn, the youthful desperadoes who it is alleged intended to dynamite the Lake county treasury at Crown Point, have been bound over to Lake circuit court in heavy bonds. Their parents will let them suffer the penalty. The mother of the Knight boy is prostrated over the arrest of her son and may die.

Demand for Back Fees.
